

Writer Sees Extra Session As Nuisance to Coolidge

No President Wants Any More of Congress Than Is Necessary

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
WASHINGTON, June 14—An extra session of congress is in sight late in the autumn, after all. It's a cinch President Coolidge doesn't want one.

More than the law allows—or imperatively requires, to be quite exact. It's particularly a nuisance to Coolidge. So far as he's concerned, everything is fixed for 1928 about as well as it can be fixed. Congressional monkeying can't improve his prospects and there's the risk that something may go wrong.

HOWEVER, there's bound to be an end of talk about flood relief—the more so because nobody really knows what to do. Agriculture's the same way. It's got to be relieved and no two groups agree on what will relieve it. So that will have to be discussed indefinitely, too.

There won't be time for all this chit-chat next spring. Everybody will be wanting to get away for the campaign. So due allowance has to be made for it in the fall. Otherwise, though an extra session against the president's personal wishes, his party'll be sore.

THE 70th will be a mean congress for the administration. The house of representatives will be all right but the senate's hopeless. On paper there are 49 Republican senators, including Vane and Smith, who won't be seated—but suppose they are, to give the administration the benefit of every imaginable doubt.

Then there are 47 Democrats, and one Farmer-Laborite, who'll vote with them on all important questions. Forty-eight to 49—a tie.

The vice president settles ties, so the Republicans win, in theory.

IN practice we must deduct the insurgents from the 49 Republicans. Some insurgents, like Borah, are insurgents only spasmodically, but six senators are chronic cases—La Follette and Hiram, Frazier and Nye, Norris and Brookhart. Though nominally Republicans, they'll usually vote, like Shipstead, the Farmer-Laborite, with the Democrats.

Thus the real line-up is: Administration, 42. Opposition, 54.

OF course the opposition won't be able to do anything constructive, because the house of representatives will be pro-administration, to say nothing of the senate.

ing of the situation. The situation is a mighty disagreeable situation created for the White House. Its policy will be tried up in a hard knot. It will be appointed probably will be appointed. It will be appointed for everything to do and howled out for everything to do.

IN just one respect the administration has the better of it. Except for the insurgents, the Republicans are not badly split into factions. The Democrats will be pulling one another's hair, as well as trying to pull the Republicans. The Al Smithites, the Jim Hoodsites, the Hiramites, the Donahayites, the Meredithites, the Woodhensites and various and sundry other "isms" evidently are going to begin having a regular meeting and parrot time of it as soon as this coming extra session opens.

The more they cat-haul each other, the more easily the administration's likely to get off.

EXPANSION OF N. Y. C. SYSTEM BEING PLANNED

Increase in Passenger Traffic Between Gotham and Chicago Necessitates Move

Increasing passenger traffic on the New York Central Lines has necessitated a further expansion of the system's fleet of deluxe passenger trains between New York and Chicago and has resulted in the establishing of a new North Shore Limited which will make the trip in 20 hours and 50 minutes.

This train, operated over the Michigan Central on the lap from Buffalo to Chicago is second only to the Twentieth Century Limited in speed, service, and personnel. It is claimed. It vies with the Southwestern Limited for a prominent place in the New York Central system.

The equipment of the trains includes observation, club, and dining cars. Westbound, the train leaves Grand Central Terminal in New York at 12:10 p. m., passing up the Hudson River Valley and thence across the New York State through Mohawk Valley, arriving in Buffalo, at 9:40 p. m. The train arrives in Chicago at 6:00 a. m. the following day, thus making it possible for a full day's activity in that city. Leaving Chicago at 9 p. m., one day the Limited arrives in New York at 6:30 p. m. the next.

The railroads are aiming for faster time and as a result two trains through Marion are running on faster schedules. The night Hickory Valley from Columbus to Toledo and Detroit, carrying a sleeper for Chicago has 10 minutes cut off its scheduled run while the Southwestern Limited between New York and St. Louis also is running on a 15-minute faster schedule than on previous occasions.

New Posters
The newest poster being used in the Cross-Country Campaigns. Cautiously campaign carry the words "The Chamberlain Lenses" with a picture of a locomotive crashing into a car evidently driven by the man who "took a chance."

July 1 starts the third quarter of the employed. All-Year safety contest of the New York Central while all railroads are making special efforts to cut down accidents among employees as well as those who insist on taking a chance at crossing.

If You're Afraid Of Gall Stones Watch These Signs

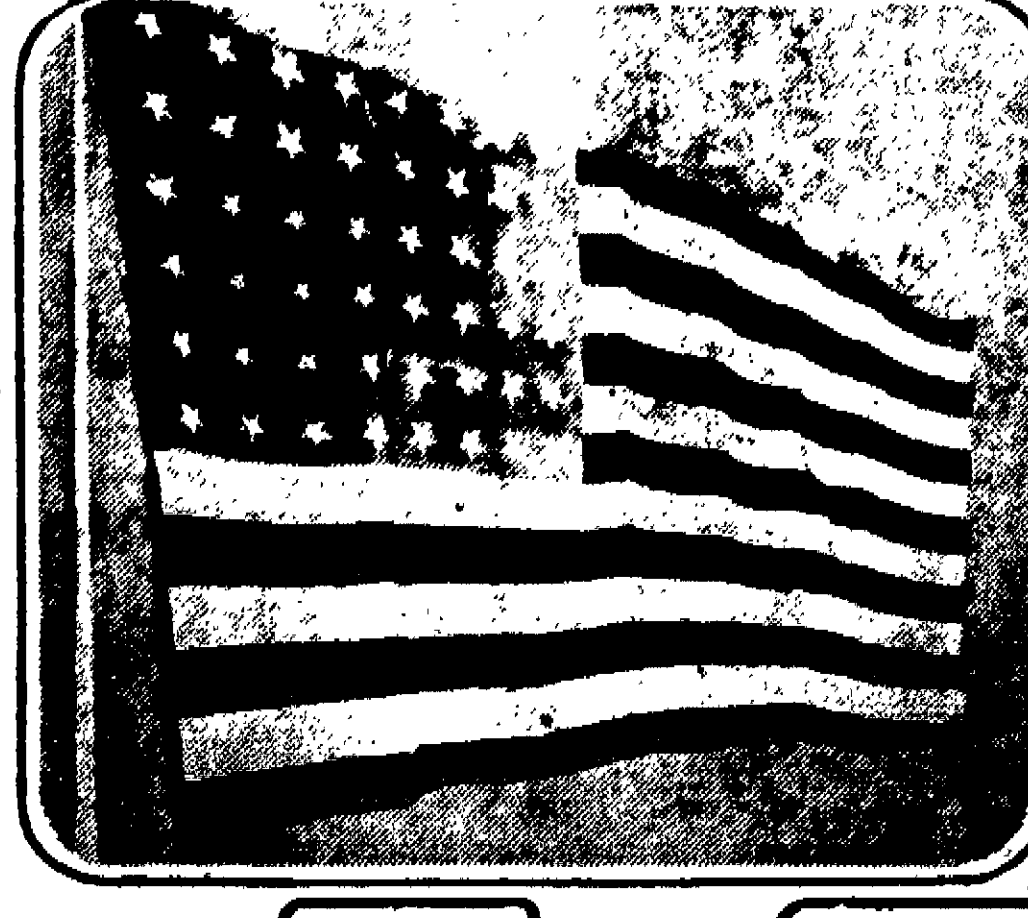

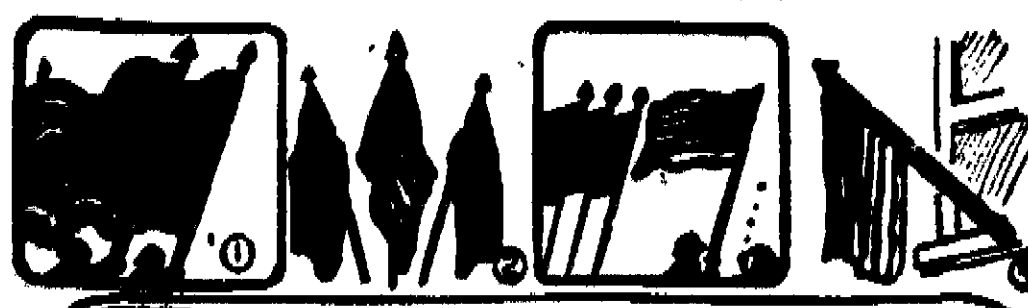

Women at the changing time of life and many middle aged men should watch out for hepatic torpidity and gall bladder inflammation, often resulting in gall stones.

Such warning signs as dizzy spells, headaches, shortness of breath, gas in stomach and bowel, pressure or sharp pains in right side that often shoot through to the back, coated tongue, bad breath, lack of ambition, weakness, nervousness or nights of restless misery caused by bad dreams and inability to sleep should have immediate attention or months or even years of miserable ill health and perhaps a dangerous surgical operation may result.

Excessive meat or past middle life should guard against hepatic torpidity and gall bladder trouble. In the opinion of the writer, one of the best things in the world, for conditions of this kind is the inexpensive home use of "Klax-Ko" Tablets, which Bradley Drug Store or any other good druggist will supply on a binding guarantee to refund their cost, if really noticeable beneficial results are not obtained within a week. Don't wait until your entire system is polluted with poisonous waste or until gall bladder inflammation or gall stones makes a dangerous operation necessary, but start the use of "Klax-Ko" Tablets today. If "Klax-Ko" does not help you, its use will not cost you a penny. —Adv.

FLAG 150 YEARS OLD

"Old Glory" and artist's sketches showing the proper way to display it.

TODAY marks the 150th anniversary of the flag. It was on the 14th day of June, 1777, that the Congress of the United States passed the now famous resolution providing for a flag with thirteen stripes, alternating red and white, with the union 13 white stars in a blue field, representing a new constellation.

June 14, 1807, marked the first anniversary of the birth of the flag to be observed officially. On that day the Governor ordered the flag raised on all public buildings in the state.

Regulations devised by the National Flag Conference, held in Washington in 1923, provide that—

1. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the flag of the United States of America should be either on the marching right, if it is the flag's own right—or when there is a line of other flags, the flag of the United States may be in front of the center of that line.

2. When a number of flags of states or cities or persons or societies are grouped and displayed from staffs with the flag of the United States of America, the latter should be at the center or at the highest point of the group.

For Use in Procession

3. When carried in a procession with another flag or flags the flag of the United States, if there is a line of other flags, may be in front of the center of that line.

4. When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of a building, the union of the flag should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff.

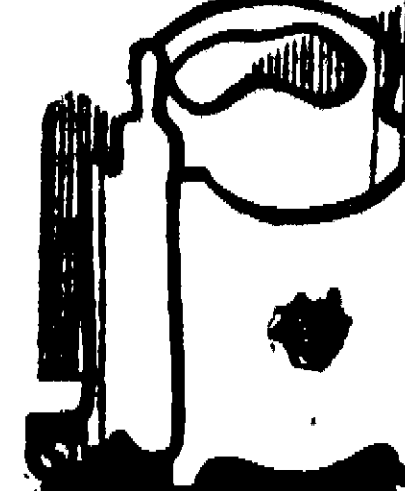

5. When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height, and the flags should be of approximately equal size. (International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.)

6. When displayed with another flag against a wall from cross staffs, the flag of the United States should be on the right, the flags own right, and it should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

7. When the flag is displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended with the union to the north in an east and west street, or to the east in a north and south street.

8. When flags of states or cities or persons or societies are flown on the same halyard with the flag of the United States, the latter should always be at the peak.

FIFTH IN JAIL ESCAPE STILL AT LARGE TODAY

Shader Uses Death Scaffold at Joliet To Make His Getaway

Joliet, Ill., June 14—Charles Shader, who used the scaffold upon which he was to have been hanged for the murder of Deputy Warden Peter Kline of the state prison, as an instrument in his escape from the Joliet jail break yesterday, still was at liberty today. Squads of deputy sheriffs and prison guards are in hot pursuit. The search continues two miles east of Joliet following a report that he was seen in that territory.

Of the five condemned killers in the jail break, Gregorio Rizzo was shot to death while Charles Dutchowsky, Roberto Torres and Walter Stalesky were recaptured after a spectacular gun battle with guards in their third attempt for freedom. Two others implicated in the murder had escaped previously.

State's Attorney Hjalmar Behm of

Will County, after conference last night with officials, stated that while reports on the break would be scanned, there would probably be no grand jury investigation.

Stalesky was shot through the back and may die. Dutchowsky was badly beaten. Torres lost his nerve and returned to his cell.

Stalesky and Shader had fashioned a key to their cell, emerged, overpowered three guards, released the others and thrusting a guard ahead of them marched to the jail office and armed themselves. Torres fled to his cell when Sheriff Albert Margot stepped in but the others seized the sheriff, marched him through the stockade back of the jail to the sheriff's automobile.

Goos Through Garage

They pointed guns at the sheriff and told him to drive away. He delayed the starting of his automobile long enough for guards and Joliet police to surround the car. A score of shots were fired before the desperadoes were overpowered and returned to their cells.

When the firing began, Shader ducked back into the stockade, hid under the scaffold on which he was scheduled to hang, and then, during the confusion, made his way through a garage and lost himself in the crowd that was milling about the jail.

The same five men, with Bernardo Ros, a Mexican, broke from the same jail last March. A Chicago policeman was killed in a battle with the fugitives. Ros still is at large.

These six and Albert Price, also still at liberty, escaped from the penitentiary at Joliet, May 5, 1936, after killing Deputy Warden Klein. Execution of the men for Klein's death was stayed pending a review of their case by the state supreme court.

City Hospital with a broken back, the result of another accident Sunday night on the Prospect-pk seven miles south of the city. David Wertsbaugh and Homer DeGood, also of Richmond, escaped with minor injuries. Wertsbaugh, however, was taken to City Hospital.

Four Cars Collide

Four machines were damaged but the occupants escaped serious injury Sunday night when a car driven by Charles Bender crashed into three machines on N. Main-st.

Occupants of two cars driven by Harrison Stephens, 208 E. Mark-st., and C. A. McKeel, 138 E. Mark-st., escaped injury when the machines collided at the intersection of Mark and Main-st Sunday night.

In the face of all this, the question is being asked:

Who is responsible?

Mayor Earl M. Hazen and Police Chief James W. Thompson agree that education of the child as to the dangers of playing in the street or darting into a thoroughfare without first looking to see if a car is approaching would eliminate much of the trouble.

The responsibility for this educational work they place on parents and school teachers.

Drivers Responsible

However these officials agree that the automobile driver is not without blame. Failure to exercise care and judgment while driving through residential sections figures largely in local accidents that have come to the attention of these two city officials, they say.

Weighing the matter from all angles, Mayor Hazen and Chief Thompson have come to the conclusion that in the case of accidents where children are the victims the parents must bear a major share of the responsibility. A child darting into the street without first ascertaining the nearness of a car places the driver in an almost helpless position to prevent an accident, they point out.

Receive Complaints

Complaints are constantly being received at police headquarters and at the mayor's office from drivers in all parts of the city against children playing, coasting and skating in the streets.

Likewise many complaints have been turned in by drivers where it was charged that children in an attempt at daring stunts directly in the paths of machines, jumping aside only when the car was within a few feet of them.

In an effort to curb such dangerous tactics both Mayor Hazen and Chief Thompson have personally visited several sections in the city, they said today, to investigate reports turned in by both motorists and persons living along the thoroughfare.

Warnings against street play and skating on asphalt surfaced streets has been issued through the press by the mayor.

Issue Appeal

In the hope of preventing recurrence of the recent accidents in which the two children were killed and another seriously injured a joint appeal was issued today by Mayor Hazen and Chief Thompson to parents to keep their children off the street and to motorists to exercise greater caution in neighborhood where there are many children.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT LINDBERGH

bonable Park-av apartment of Harry H. Frayer.

Lindbergh made it plain that St. Louis is his home town and his future, whatever it is, will be centered in that city. He also plans to "stick to aviation."

"Certainly, I'll stick to aviation," he said.

"Do you still feel that way," he was asked, after having received all these glittering offers, a few of which offer $200,000 a year?

"My decision still stands," the youth said solemnly.

"Will you go into business in St. Louis?"

"All I can say now is that St. Louis is my home."

Leave the Colonel

For four hours today, New York lost that very well known young man, Colonel Lindbergh.

The flying colonel slipped quietly out of town to Mitchell and Curtis Fields, near Garden City, L. I., and talked shop to the air pilots and mechanics with whom he became acquainted when he was preparing to hop off for Paris three weeks and four days ago. He had a grand time.

When he came back to the city, the rather indignant reporters wanted to know why he did it. He had caught them napping and, besides, he's an early riser.

"Oh, I wanted to see my friends more than anything else," Lindy smiled.

Call Off Tributes

Upon his return he learned that the board of education had called off the tribute of 100,000 school children on the mall of Central Park this afternoon because of rain. The ceremonies were cancelled entirely.

This gave Lindy even more time to himself and he planned to spend the afternoon motoring with his mother. The only official engagement left was a dinner to be given him by the city tonight at the Commodore Hotel.

The "Lone Eagle" of the Atlantic sailed late this morning at 270 Park-av where he and his mother are the guests of Harry Frayer. He had breakfast with his mother and they had the first real chat since he had come back to New York. The morning was largely Lindy's own.

Plans Conference

This morning Lindy planned to grant a conference with his business associates who are anxious to get an inkling of his plans. They are B. F. Mahoney, head of the Ryan Airways, Inc., which built "The Spirit of St. Louis," Major William Robertson, by whom the famous flier still is employed as chief pilot of the air mail route from St. Louis to Chicago, and Harry H. Knight, of St. Louis, one of Lindy's principal backers on the New York-to-Paris flight.

Mahoney wants Lindbergh to become associated with his firm, Robertson, it is understood, would like him to accept a block of stock in his company and develop the commercial end of the business, particularly an air passenger and express service between St. Louis and Chicago and Knight, it is said, wants the famous flier to scorn all movie and theatrical offers and devote himself exclusively to aviation. None of them knows exactly what Lindbergh plans to do.

Lindbergh is not expected to make any plans until after the tumult and excitement which are a part of the great reception he has been receiving here since his arrival.

While other big receptions are planned for Lindy in New York, none, of course, will anywhere near approach that of yesterday when, according to police estimate, 4,000,000 persons cheered from packed sidewalks and streets and every available observation point of buildings as Lindbergh made his triumphal passage from the Battery to Central Park. The throngs were estimated to be the greatest that ever gathered within these areas.

One woman fell dead during the excitement, a dozen persons were injured in traffic accidents, 100 adults and a score of children were overcome by the heat, and at least a thousand others required treatment of a minor nature, throughout the day the city's 12,000 police and reserves had their hands full in maintaining order.

It was not expected that Lindbergh would leave the Frayer Apartment until early this afternoon. The 100,000 school children who will converge in Central Park at 1 o'clock will sing for him. Lindbergh will address them and brief speeches will also be made by Mayor James J. Walker and others.

Locked Up

"Spirit of St. Louis" Put in Hangar Awaiting Lindy's Decision

WASHINGTON, June 14—Col. Charles Lindbergh's transatlantic plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," was locked in a hangar at the naval field at Anacostia today awaiting its owner's decision as to what he wants done with it.

The faulty cylinder which prevented Lindbergh's flying it to New York yesterday was repaired in two hours and the bus wheeled back to a hangar to await Lindbergh's decision.

Flying officers thought it probable that "Lindy" will come down and fly it back to New York, as he has expressed a desire to make the New York-to-St. Louis flight in the ship. No one else will be permitted to fly the plane.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 14—It is now Lindbergh, Texas.

Knowing of no better way to honor Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who negotiated a non-stop flight from New York to Paris, a group of St. Louis capitalists, have named the town they are building on the banks of the Rio Grande River, in Starr County, Lindbergh.

Lindbergh now has a population of several hundred and is in the center of a rich cotton, truck and fruit farming area.

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 14—Two boys who just arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Parish of Green Bay, have been named Lindbergh and Chamberlin Parish.

The parents have been enthusiastic followers of the exploits of America's two famous transatlantic fliers.

Garden City, N. Y., June 14—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh paid an unexpected visit to Mitchell Field this morning. The visit was not on Lindy's official program.

He was accompanied by C. S. ("Casey") Jones, a test pilot of the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Co. Not more than a dozen persons saw or recognized Lindbergh.

He scanned weather maps in the observation office of the army recreation and expressed his disappointment that the weather was unfavorable for flying. It was raining.

The twins are Ruth and Robert, 7; Eugene and George, 8 and Mary and Joseph, 13. They performed in duets, each playing a different musical instrument.

JUDGE RULES TIBBALS' PURCHASES WERE LEGAL

Finds Merchandise Must Be Included Among Assets for All Creditors

An effort on the part of creditors to recover merchandise that had been sold to Arthur W. Tibbals, in jail on a charge of having issued forged notes, was defeated yesterday when Municipal Judge William E. Martin ruled the transactions were legal and that the merchandise must be included among the assets for the benefit of the creditors in general.

Two actions were brought against Tibbals in municipal court. The Coffey Washburn Co. brought a replevin action to recover seven washers, four ironers and one demonstrating outfit at an estimated value of $868.35 and J. H. Quinn, doing business as the J. H. Lumber Co. brought action to recover 175 gallons of paint, varnish and lacquer of the estimated value of $522.14. The actions were brought against D. C. Ridgway, assignee for Tibbals, who in his answer to the petitions filed by the two companies, set up the claim that as assignee for Tibbals, he had the right to possession of all stock of the electric store operated by Tibbals on N. Main-st., to be sold for the benefit of all creditors.

Erie Office Sluggers Slaughter Excavators, 12 to 1

Three Teams in Deadlock For Association Lead As First Round Closes Today

Erie Switchmen Win Over Howitzers To Remain in Tie for First Place; Brotherhood of Railway Clerks Defeat American Legion

By EDDIE SCHORNIEB
Sports Editor, The Star

THAT group of sluggers performing under the name of Erie Office almost caused a riot in the Association last night when they knocked out pitcher out of the box and smacked one after another delivering far and wide while slaughtering the Excavators, undefeated in a league game until the massacre took place.

The final count was 12 to 1 and the Excavators' hopes of a clean state for the first round were crushed beneath an avalanche of home runs, three-baggers, doubles, and a number of singles. The Erie Office boys collected 14 hits of every variety.

No one told us where Midam was last night. He has been pitching for the Excavators and they certainly needed him. It might have been a different story but—well, we are beginning to think that the Erie outfit can make a man out of anything.

Three-Way Tie
Incidentally, the Erie Switchmen won again last night and as a result there are three teams tied for first place in the Association as the first round comes to an end. The three deadlocked for the league leading position are Excavators, Erie Office and Erie Switchmen.

There are three other teams in the league but they have slumped most of the season. The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks showed their first spark of life last night when they trimmed the American Legion, 8 to 5, but Howitzers didn't go so well against the Erie Switchmen. They took the tail-end of a 6 to 3 count.

Legion on Bottom
The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks emerged from the dugout and left the American Legion floundering around in the dark at the end of the first round. The Legion has not won a contest so far but must be given credit for trying its best. Easier said than done, it will surprise some "cocky" outfit and spill the contents of the dope bucket of the Association.

The B. of R. C. only received one more hit than their opponents but the Legion made a few more costly errors than the Clerks. G. Gilmore pitched for the Brotherhood and Knappenberg was on the mound for the Legion.

Greenland pitched for the Erie Switchmen and Amick held down the job for Howitzers.

The Association teams start on the second round next week and if the Erie Office hitting staff has anything to say about it, that outfit will be heading the league when its all over six weeks from today.

Here's British Entry in Open Tourney

A. BOOMER, A. G. HAYES, TED RAY, GEO. GADD, F. ROBERTSON, C. A. COMPTON, GEO. DUNCAN, C. A. WHITCOMBE

BY NORMAN E. BROWN
WHEN Great Britain threatened to take away the United States open championship in 1913 it was a two-man army that Francis Ouimet, caddy, repelled. Seven years later when Ted Ray took the coveted crown back to the British Isles, it was another two-man team who came after it. There is reason, then, for some concern regarding the safety of the title this year—in view of the fact that the invading force of 1927 is comprised of eight—count 'em—outstanding stars of Great Britain. Ted Ray captains the team. He is still Ted Ray. George Duncan, powerful driver, winner of the British open in 1920 and familiar with every course of importance in the United States, is a member.

Archibute Compton is another. He is ranked second to Abe Mitchell in official golf circles in Great Britain. In 24 competitive rounds last year he averaged 73.310 strokes. Aubrey Boomer is the young man who won the French and Belgian open tourneys last summer and two big "pots" besides—the Daily Mail and Glasgow Herald events.

Charles Whitcombe comes from a family of great golfers. He won the Daily Mail tourney in 1924 and topped two big prizes last summer.

Wins Tri-County League Game Despite Morral Rally

Staging a battling rally in the ninth inning with the score standing 8 to 3 against it, Morral fell one run short of its goal and was defeated by the Claridon nine, Sunday afternoon, in a Tri-County league baseball contest. The final count was 8 to 7.

The tying rallies were on the mucks with two down when McIntire bled to center in the last of the ninth. But Newland, on second base, could not make home and only one man scored. Swavel fled out on the next ball, retiring the side.

"Down With Bobby Jones" Is Cry Of Professionals As National Open Starts

Tourney Opens on Oakmont Course, Near Pittsburgh; All Forces Massed Against Amateur Holder of Title; Britain Has Strong Entry

By DAVIS J. WALSH

PITTSBURGH, June 14—Some of our best people among the peasantry and the serfs, downtrodden and oppressed these several years by a tyranny predicated on the theory that might is right, will rise up in red revolution today against the dynasty of the Emperor Jones.

Determined to establish a new dictatorship over the land where the almighty rules and fozzie is almost instant death, they will advance by forced marches against the defenses of the castle and their battle cry will be: "Down with everything, especially Jones."

It doesn't seem to matter that the emperor is a perfect gentleman; that he is mild of eye, suave of speech and just a bit too fat to be romantic, they want his competitive head on a platter such as inspired Salome to her dance: for the Emperor Jones is open golf champion of America and Great Britain, though an amateur heart and soul, and the tournaments in question were the perquisites of professional golf until such time as the emperor deigned to be enthroned.

So today these professional gentlemen to whom golf is their bread, their butter and their lives will attack the citadel of the perfect golfer with an intensity of which only a body of men in danger of losing something quite vital could be altogether capable.

One principally, however, must fall at a time, if ever, and their assault today will be against the emperor's battlefield will be their epidemic of shell holes known as the Oakmont Country Club. The event will be concluded in 72 holes of medal play, ending Thursday unless there is a play off, which is more than possible.

For when all is said and done, the Emperor is only Robert T. Jones, an amateur who thinks as much of his law courses as his golf and the competing field is made up of six former champions of America, four former champions of Great Britain and a list of sectional leaders as long as a murder indictment.

In brief, the greatest golf event to be enthroned.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDG MONTGOMERY LAWRENCE

er asked me and Jubilee this there was many wild straw- berries and not blood, and my mother was so glad that she didn't feel half as bad about the berries as I thought she would. She said the berries broke her fall and maybe saved the spine of her back.

My mother made us pour the berries out on a newspaper and pick out the ones that were not smashed at all, and also the ones that were just smashed a little, and she made strawberry pie out of the smashed ones, and strawberry shortcake out of the whole ones.

They all found out that it was strawberries and not blood and my father said we are certainly living high, but I didn't have a very good appetite. Maybe I eat too many friedcakes, but I eat one piece of pie and chewed up quite a lot of short cake and swallowed it slow, but I got so full my father said he was worried about me, but my aunt said a beautiful boy and a boy are just alike so he needn't worry. Nothing happened.

Peter's Adventures

A Story for Boys and Girls

BY FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

nothing but a Two-Legs," said he. "Don't think for a moment that no news trickles down to Moleland. I know you now—you are the boy who saved the life of the old Oak Tree. One day on a moon-time trip to the upper I am honored to have so distinguished a land I met Bobolink and he told me, guest. Of course, step inside! I am old and it would tire me to show you my home, but Matty here will be your guide. I built every inch of my fortress with my own paws. And right across the way is the nest. My wife made every bit of that herself—had it all finished one morning when I came home. Ah, those were the happy days. But I am talking too much—an old Mole always does." The old Mole leaned his head against the wall of his fortress and Matty beckoned to the boy.

"Grandfather is going to sleep now," said he. "Step softly and don't disturb him."

Going on tiptoe, Peter followed his guide and found himself in a gallery that ran all around the mole hill and from out of which ran any number of little passageways. Matty led him to the edge of the gallery and told him to look over, and there was clear to the top of the mound, and in the middle of this room was a pile of dried leaves.

"Grandfather's bed," explained Matty. "As old as he is, though, he will sleep in this cloud-in room only in the winter. In summer he prefers to nap in a smaller hillock."

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER DELAYS ENGLISH FLIERS

Airmen Plan To Beat Non-Stop Distance Record of Chamberlin

London, June 11—Unfavorable weather today delayed the departure of Lieut. Carr and Mackworth who are to attempt a new non-stop flight record. The fliers will take off from London for Karachi, a distance of some 4,100 miles, but if conditions are favorable will continue on with Calcutta as their goal. Calcutta is 5,000 miles from London by air and it is hoped that it may be reached in order to break the non-stop distance record now held by Clarence Chamberlin in his New York-to-Germany flight. A fortnight ago Lieutenant Carr set forth on a similar flight but was forced down in the Gulf of Persia by engine trouble. Lieutenants Carr and Mackworth will fly a Hawkeye biplane, which is a standard day bombing ship. The only change made in the plane for this flight is a slight increase in the radio tin surface.

752 S. Prospect and partially destroyed the roof of the Claud Wertz residence next door, yesterday afternoon. The loss on the two-family dwelling is estimated by Fire Chief McFarland at $1,800 on the building and $300 on the contents while the loss on the Wertz dwelling is estimated by Mr. Wertz at between $1,000 and $1,400. The damage is all covered by insurance.

The fire, which started from a spark from a chimney on a shingle roof, had gained but small headway when discovered by a passerby who ran to the fire alarm box at the intersection of Superior and R. Prospect, where he broke the glass and opened the door.
Instead of pulling down the hook which is necessary in turning in an alarm, however, he returned to the fire to await the arrival of the department.

Fireman Seen Blame
In the meantime, C. W. Stafford, a fireman at the central station, and who lives on Carver-av, saw the blaze from his home and hurrying over inquired of a spectator if an alarm had been sent in he was informed that it had, he became suspicious, however, when the department failed to arrive and shouted to one of the neighbors to call 100 on the telephone.

When the department from central station arrived the entire roof was ablaze and a light wind from the west had caused the flame to leap across to the shingle roof of the Wertz residence. Two lines of hose were laid and the firemen battled for more than an hour to check the flames.

The entire roof of the two family dwelling, which is owned by W. J. January, of Warren, and occupied by the families of John P. White and Mrs. J.
Gottschall, was destroyed while the roof on the north side of the Wertz residence is practically destroyed with several large holes on the south side. The contents of the second floor of the Wertz residence also suffered some loss from water.
